

Moodle Service and VeriGuide

Moodle - Online Learning Platform

CUSCS uses the Moodle platform as the Learning Management System (LMS) to provide effective learning for students. Students can check with instructors, and see any course materials which can be retrieved to facilitate your learning activities.

Some of the useful features in Moodle include:

1. List out teaching materials and class activities online in topic or weekly format;
2. Extend to discuss with students outside classroom via Internet;
3. Receive assignments online with deadlines;
4. Provide online exercises to students;
5. Detect assignment content similarities.

VeriGuide - Anti-Plagiarism Tools

Award-bearing Programmes' students are eligible to use the VeriGuide (anti-plagiarism tool) to find out similarities in the content of your submissions (i.e. Assignments, Project Papers, etc) provided by the Chinese University of Hong Kong through the Moodle platform. The purpose of VeriGuide is to assist students who can easily revise the content of assignments for any similarities comparing with different resources (e.g. all past submissions, academic journal, internet resources, and VeriGuide provided database).

On Moodle and VeriGuide default setting, all student assignments will undergo the content similarity detection automatically.